Notable~

As a passionate outdoorsman, citizen scientist, and amateur historian, I love to explore and learn about the world around me. When I'm not pursuing these interests, you can often find me on the softball field or in the pool, staying active and fit.

I have a boundless curiosity and a deep appreciation for the wonders of life. I value the connections I have with others and cherish the experiences we share.

I am grateful for the opportunities I have had so far and am excited for the adventures that lie ahead.
